NEW QUESTION: 1

Your network contains an Active Directory domain named contoso.com. The domain contains 1,000 client computers that run Windows 10.

A security audit reveals that the network recently experienced a Pass-the-Hash attack. The attack was initiated from a client computer and accessed Active Directory objects restricted to the members of the Domain Admins group.

You need to minimize the impact of another successful Pass-the-Hash attack on the domain. What should you recommend?

- A. Move the computer accounts of all the client computers to a new organizational unit (OU). Remove the permissions to the new OU from the Domain Admins group.
- B. Instruct all administrators to use a local Administrators account when they sign in to a client computer.
- C. Move the computer accounts of the domain controllers to a new organizational unit (OU). Remove the permissions to the new OU from the Domain Admins group.

NEW QUESTION: 2

You need to recommend a solution for the sales reports.

What should you include in the recommendation?

- A. BranchCache in hosted cache mode
- B. Offline files
- C. Distributed File System (DFS)

D. BranchCache in distributed cache mode

Answer: C

Explanation:

DFS to increase the availability of data by storing the data on multiple servers. DFS could make the sales reports available, even if the WAN link is down.

* Scenario: Server3 has a shared folder that contains sales reports. The sales reports are read frequently by the users in both offices. The reports are generated automatically once per week by an enterprise resource planning (ERP) system.

If a WAN link fails, users must be able to access ALL of the sales reports

Incorrect:

Not A, Not C: Branchcache (hosted or distributed) does not work when content server is not reachable (link down).

Not B: According to the scenario, the computers in the San Diego office are often replaced, so offline caching will not make the reports available all the time if WAN link goes down.

The technician is setting up an Ethernet Routing

Switch (ERS) 8300 switch for QoS. It has been determined that unimportant traffic will be marked on the edge of the network with a default IEEE 802.1p setting of 0. A. The ERS 8300 as a core device will not use the IEEE 802.1p to Traffic Class Map for this application.

B. The ERS 8300 mapping has been altered since the IEEE 802.1p settings do not map directly to the same Traffic Class.

C. The ERS 8300 mapping will push the IEEE 802.1p setting of 0 above the network control traffic.

D. The ERS 8300 mapping is normal and should be left as is

A large bank has multiple applications protected by two identically configured WebSEAL servers. One junction supports a reporting application that frequently experiences performance issues which slows response time. Which configuration change will prevent this situation from occurring without impacting the behavior of any other application (junction), and keeping the entire site up?

A. Change worker-thread-hard-limit to 75 in WebSEAL configuration file on both WebSEAL servers.

B. Use the "throttle" option on the "pdadmin server task" command for the reporting application junction on both WebSEAL instances.

C. Create a third WebSEAL instance supporting only this one reporting application and load balance requests across all three WebSEAL instances.

D. Use the -L 75 and -f options on the "pdadmin server task" command for the reporting application junction on both WebSEAL instances.
