NEW QUESTION: 1

You have a DNS server named Server1 that runs Windows Server 2012 R2. On Server1, you create a DNS zone named contoso.com.

You need to specify the email address of the person responsible for the zone.

Which type of DNS record should you configure?

- A. Mailbox (MB)
- B. Mail exchanger (MX)
- C. Host information (HINFO)
- D. Start of authority (SOA)

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

A SOA-record defines the responsible person for an entire zone, but a zone may contain many individual hosts / domain names for which different people are responsible. The RP-record type makes it possible to identify the responsible person for individual host names contained within the zone.

NEW QUESTION: 2

The chart below is an example of a:

- A. RACI chart
- B. Responsibility assignment matrix (RAM)
- C. Work breakdown structure (WBS)
- D. Requirements traceability matrix

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

5.2.3.2 Requirements Traceability Matrix

The requirements traceability matrix is a grid that links product requirements from their origin to the deliverables that satisfy them. The implementation of a requirements traceability matrix helps ensure that each requirement adds business value by linking it to the business and project objectives. It provides a means to track requirements throughout the project life cycle, helping to ensure that requirements approved in the requirements documentation are delivered at the end of the project. Finally, it provides a structure for managing changes to the product scope.

Tracing includes, but is not limited to, tracing requirements for the following:
Business needs, opportunities, goals, and objectives;

Project objectives;

Project scope/WBS deliverables;

Product design;

Product development;

Test strategy and test scenarios; and

High-level requirements to more detailed requirements.

Attributes associated with each requirement can be recorded in the requirements traceability matrix. These attributes help to define key information about the requirement. Typical attributes used in the requirements traceability matrix may include: a unique identifier, a textual description of the requirement, the rationale for inclusion, owner, source, priority, version, current status (such as active, cancelled, deferred, added, approved, assigned, completed), and status date. Additional attributes to ensure that the requirement has met stakeholders' satisfaction may include stability, complexity, and acceptance criteria.

NEW QUESTION: 3

Refer to the exhibit.

A network administrator sets up 802.1X authentication to a RADIUS server on an AOS-Switch. The RADIUS server and user devices are both set up to use PEAP MSCHAPv2. The administrator tests the authentication and sees the output shown in the exhibit. Which issue could cause this output?

- A. The RADIUS shared secret does not match on the switch and the server
- B. The switch does not have a certificate for port-access installed on the switch
- C. The switch port is set for user mode 802.1X, but the RADIUS server is set for port mode
- D. The administrator entered the wrong password for the test account
